I found the book to dynamically change gears from page to page generating emotions from amusement to being poignantly touching. It is extremely refreshing to read the Christian spoken word selections that are current, real and relevant. It's a great book to just pick up when you need to be energized, even if it's just to read a few selections!

Students support heritage

Spoken word artist Craig Doyle Henry performed at St. Joseph Secondary School as part of this month's Black History celebration.

Craig Doyle Henry used heritage and share their gifts with others.

Henry, who recently released the book, My Name is Poetry, has performed on stage with a host of musicians including Grammy Award nominee Winans Phase 2.

Henry, an award-winning songwriter and graduate of Streetsville Secondary School, addressed grades 11 and 12 students as part of Dufferin-Peel Catholic District School Board Black History Month celebrations.

Delivering a mix of rhyme, rap and motivational speaking to his audience, Henry, who's widely recognized by the moniker CDH Live!, told students that no matter what their background, they should be proud of their heritage and share their gifts with others.

The Dufferin-Peel Board has a variety of events scheduled to mark Black History Month, including its fifth annual conference for secondary school students, Teach One, Be One: The Write To Be. The conference, which takes place Feb. 19 at University of Toronto Mississauga, focuses on the rights of young people to be who they want to be, through language and literacy.
