

Enough Time

words & music by John Dandrea

there'll never be enough time to say what I need it's all a blur in my mind and so hard to see

I catch a glimpse now and then, so clear but then again, I look and it's just disappeared

to say what I know like when a good friend dies it's so hard to let go*

to say what I feel sometimes just a mem'ry is the one thing that's real*
