

With a plethora of musical tastes and backgrounds ranging from the classics to the blues, from country to metal and even hardcore, MP4 shows no limitations in their style and performances. While primarily considering themselves an 80's cover band, they are a diverse group of musicians capable of grabbing the attention of any audience with the eclectic blend of music they play. Whether it is the 80's, country, rock, funk, or heavy metal, no audience member will leave not being entertained. MP4's musical influences range from Eddie Van Halen, Kiss, Six Ways to Sunday, The Eagles, and Deep Purple to Elvis and Chuck Berry.

While watching VH1 in March of 2006, Keith Posey, a seasoned musician, had the desire to assemble a band and began the search for its members. Through Bandmix, friends and 'word of mouth', one by one the band began to assemble. The MP4 band consists of bassist Keith 'The Teaser' Posey, Ken Reaves, the most entertaining drummer around, Tim 'the axman' Boykin and Tommy 'Steve Perry' Woods on lead vocals. The band is a unique blend of personalities and energies that creates the overall rock experience. Collectively they have 26 years of experience each.

MP4 has established a devout following and are recognized as "the band to see." Their fan base encompasses all ages, ethnicities and genders and even a few 'questionables.' The four musicians who comprise MP4 are dedicated and focused on reaching their main goal: to have their music embraced and enjoyed by every listening soul who attends their shows.
