

Marci Geller

"Marci strikes me as a songwriter with something to say. Sometimes she declares it in a loud burst, and sometimes she states it with a calm certainty. In either case, there's a sense that you'll be kicking yourself later if you miss the message now."

-Rorie Kelly, LI Pulse

The founder and co-owner of Sonic Underground, singer/songwriter Marci Geller has a lofty resume. Included are her performances on Live! With Regis, Fox Morning Show, Better CT, CNN Worldbeat and various local and regional news outlets. She has toured domestically with her band and internationally as the opener and back-up vocalist for Ritchie Blackmore's "Blackmore's Night." She was also the founding member of the now defunct trio Lucky 13 which toured extensively up and down the east coast.

Her music can be heard in soundtracks on MTV, VH-1, PBS, ABC Family, A&E, Discovery Channel, USA Network and others. Her passion and tenacity have enabled her to forge a distinct niche in the independent music arena. She was voted one of the "Top 10 Best Singer/Songwriters" by Independent Songwriter magazine and is a frequent "Featured Artist" at ArtistLaunch.com.

"Marci Geller is an enigmatic artist that is highly creative & original in both lyrical content & vision."-Leigh Silverberg, United Global Artists

The piano based chanteuse has been compared to Sarah McLachlan, Laura Nyro and called "A Millennium Carole King" by Ear Candy Magazine. She currently tours and is recording her next CD.
