

A bountiful harvest of arts

BY JULIE GRABOWSKI

As the coolness of autumn descends, thoughts turn festive - anticipating coming holidays, activities, and togetherness. Union City provides the perfect kickoff to the season with its 5th Annual Fall Festival of the Arts held in Old Alvarado Park Sunday, September 28. The festival continues to improve each year, offering arts, crafts, food, and local wine from returning favorites and great new additions in a fun and friendly atmosphere.

"I appreciate the support the City of Union City gives this great community event," says Diane La Mountaine, founder and president of the Art Association of the East Bay, Inc., and leader of the charge "to keep the arts alive and moving forward in this community." The festival opens a window to the diverse and numerous local artists among us whose talents add richness to life and community.

A bountiful harvest of arts: See Page 7

