

Show Me

by Scott Seabock

I don't want your sweet words of love and affection about how much you care
I don't need for you to tell me I'm the only one and that you'll always be there
 "Cause words alone could never fill my heart
For if true love is a journey I know just where it starts

When you show me show me how you feel
 Show me that your love for me is real
Show me it's what we've needed all along
 Show me to keep our love going strong

We've both seen what happens when lovers give up trying They're still together but leading separate lives
Strangers to each other who started out the best of friends
 Too hurt to carry on too afraid to let it end
But you and I we can learn from their mistakes
So if you don't want the two of us to end up the same

Come on and show me you feel the way I do
 Show me I've got everything I need loving you
Show me how much you miss me when I'm gone
 Show me you don't know how much it turns me on

A tender kiss in the morning before I go to work
You cook my favorite dinner babe and rub my shoulder when it hurts
Run your fingers through my hair with a sweet gentle touch
 It's all those little things that mean so much

And show me we're going to make it you and I
 Show me our love will never never die
Show me I'm going to show you too every way I can I'll always be your loving man
