

Somebody Prayed For Me

by Scott Seabock

There was a mountain of confusion in my life
Where trouble rolled like rocks and boulders in an avalanche of strife
Still I kept climbing up to the top of that hill
Thinking my happiness depended on finding one more worldly thrill
All the while totally unbeknownst to me
There was a hand upon my life that would change my destiny
Communication from a servant to the throne
And though many times I felt so lonely I never really was alone

God laid my name on someone's heart ever since I was a kid
I don't know just who it was but I'm sho' nuff glad He did
With a faith that saw beyond my sin to the power of the cross
By the grace of God I'm heaven bound and I know it's just because

Somebody prayed for me when I was lost in sin
Yes they were on their knees trying my soul to win
Somebody prayed for me that I'd know wrong from right
Someday I'd come to be a child of the light
It might've been my best friend could've been my enemy
Whoever it was I thank the Lord
Somebody prayed for me

Somebody prayed for me when I was lost in sin
Yes they were on their knees trying my soul to win
Somebody prayed for me that I'd know wrong from right
Someday I'd come to be a child of the light
Now I'm standing here before you a prisoner set free
But it never could've happened unless
Somebody prayed for me
