

Solargenix Energy

Partner Benefit Overview

Please visit our website www.solargenixchicago.com for more detailed information on our products and installations. You can also download a partner application from the partner page. If you have any questions e-mail Alice Epstein at aepstein@solargenix.com

Discount Pricing on Solargenix Products

As an SGX partner, you will receive a significant discount on all SGX products. Additional discounts may apply for volume purchasing. Please call 773.847.8333 for details.

Leads for Prospective Jobs

Solargenix will forward leads for prospective jobs to our partners based on location and type of service requested. SGX generates leads from advertising in a variety of magazines and journals, attending and exhibiting in trade shows and participating in solar industry events.

Engineering and Technical Support

Solargenix offers technical support. Authorized partners will have the opportunity to purchase technical support for assistance with any engineering and installation issues they may have. Please contact Jeff Ruhl at jruhl@solargenix.com for more information.

Marketing Assistance

Authorized companies have permission to use Solargenix marketing material including brochures, fliers and fact sheets about SGX products. We can include additional logos on our material to help promote the companies of our partners.

Advertising Opportunities

Solargenix will publish partner information on our website so that potential clients have easy access to their contact information. We also offer advertising space for a nominal price, giving your company a chance to describe the type of services you provide and give your logo greater exposure. For more information, please contact Alice Epstein at aepstein@solargenix.com
